CAUSE OF RELIGIOUS RIOTS IN INDIA

The trouble between the Hindoos and the Mohametans in Calcutta, India, and its neighborhood arose from the police order that, in deference to Hindoo feeling, forbade Mohametans to sacrifice cows, animals sacred to the Hindoo, and led to a good deal of dangerous rioting in which the "Din Din" of the frontier fanatic was heard. Our illustration shows one of the sacred cows of India in a street in Calcutta. The cow is held in such reverence that wherever it chooses to rest, there it is allowed to stay, although it may be stopping the whole of the traffic.

QUIET ON THE SURFACE

MYSTERIOUS CONFERENCE

Guatemalan and Costa Rican Ministers Closeted With Assistant Secretary Wilson—Violation of Treaty by Zelaya Probably Subject Considered.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Brooding quiet settled down today on the strained situation this government finds itself in with Nicaragua.

But if everything was quiet on the surface, there was plenty stirring beneath. A communication was received at the state department from the Nicaraguan legation, the purport of which was not divulged, and the ministers from Guatemala and Costa Rica held a mysterious conference with Assistant Secretary Wilson in the afternoon.

A significant development of the day, inasmuch as it disclosed this government's unyielding determination not to interfere with the Nicaraguan revolutionists was the reiterated announcement that the state department would not act to insure the safety of American vessels that might be seized by insurrectionary war vessels.

ways "when it was only a biscuit throw over into the ocean."

"But," said the President, "that is because he comes from Illinois. If he had to go around Cape Hatteras a few times he would understand the difference in a biscuit throw."

In order to make himself heard at the oyster roast, which was held in a low celled pavilion the President stood on a chair. Next to him sat Andrew Carnegie, who joined the Presidential party this morning.

Not So Near the Millennium.
"I feel like an oyster," began Mr. Taft, "and I ought to be as dumb as one; but when you get on the soil of old Virginia, there is something about it that makes you feel like talking, and so I have accepted the invitation to make a few brief remarks."

"I am glad to be here by the ocean side. I am glad to taste the best oysters with the best flavor that I have ever tasted before. I am glad to be here where, in spite of the views of my distinguished neighbor, Brother Carnegie, we ought to put a formidable fortress right here. Both Brother Carnegie and I are working toward the same end, and we believe in peace. I am not quite so near the millennium as he is, but we are working in the same direction and with the same principles, and we don't differ so much."

"I am delighted to meet the delegates of this association under these circumstances. I am delighted to meet the representatives of the Washington press under these circumstances. There is nothing that brings men so near to truthful understanding as a dinner, and that is what we want to bring the press to."

About the Waterways.

"Now about this waterways association. I have heard gentlemen—I think I heard our distinguished speaker intimate that he did not see what was the necessity of a waterway when it was only a biscuit throw over into the ocean, but that is because he comes from Illinois. If in the discharge of his duty it had been his fate as it has been mine, to go around this neighboring Cape Hatteras, he would understand the difference in a biscuit throw."

"He would know that there is something in quiet water. If he does not believe it, let him get on the Sylph or the Mayflower and travel up from here when there is a good strong wind blowing in Hampton Roads, and tell the difference between Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac river. He would tell it in his stomach."

"Seriously speaking my dear friends, I think it is a ripe moment to say that conventions are good and speeches are good of a general character in stirring up a movement toward a result, but you can't reach the result and you never will until you get measurements and facts and details with which those who are responsible shall become familiar, so as to enable them to make plans, draft legislation and feel confident that the result of that legislation when carried out, will bring about specific benefits. You have got to be specific. You have got to come down to facts in order to get dollars. At least that is the attitude that congress is going to take; I don't know what the scope of your vision is, but mine is limited by congress. It is the question what the representatives of the people will do with reference to accomplishing reforms."

Preparing for Final Struggle.
That the revolutionists, under Gen. Chamorro are making preparations for the final decisive struggle within the next three or four days, was announced tonight by Senor Castillo, representative here of the Nicaraguan provisional government.

Senor Castillo pointed out that with the coast line in possession of his compatriots, the securing of ammunition and arms now is a simple matter of only a few days. In the meantime, he says, Gen. Chamorro holds the Zelayan forces at his mercy.

At the time of the closing of the state department this afternoon, no word, according to Secretary Knox, had been received from the seat of the trouble.

Warships Probably There.
The warships Des Moines and Vicksburg, which were ordered to take up their stations on the Atlantic and Pacific sides of the isthmus, are believed to have reached their destinations, although no word from their commanders was received. The department was informed today that Leonard Grace, who is believed to have been executed with Leroy Cannon by order of President Zelaya, was a native of Hempstead, Texas, where his family is said now to reside.

Money Should be Spent

In a Judicial Spirit

In his open air address here today President Taft, after being introduced by Governor Swanson, said in part:

"I am glad to be here to testify to my interest in the waterways work. There has been a general movement over the country in favor of the expenditure of money to improve our waterways, inland and coastal. I am sure the movement has the support of the people and the support of all those responsible to the people for the expenditure of the money raised by taxation or otherwise."

"All that they require is that they should be shown in an ordinary, reasonable way and by evidence that will appeal to sizable men, that the money which we are about to invest will certainly redound to the general welfare and not simply to the benefit of the people in whose neighborhood it is spent in the way of furnishing labor for two or three years."

"What I wish to deprecate is a general proposition to raise a lot of money and dump some here and some there and some back here just in order to distribute it equally over the country."

"I want to say that I will take up what is projected and proposed with all the sympathy possible, but nevertheless with what I hope is a judicial spirit to reject what the evidence does not sustain and approve what the evidence does sustain."

Must Have Army and Navy.
The President referred to the battle of the Merrimac and the Monitor and to the blue jackets who participated in the parade, and said:

"One cannot stand here in Norfolk, which is the most important navy yard and naval base that we have in the United States, without having one's mind recurring to that arm of the public service which we have done so much to develop and with whose growth in one we shall do nothing to interfere. I want a navy maintained worthy of this country. We are not knocking anybody's chip off his shoulder and we are not having a chip on our shoulder, but we are a great nation of eighty or ninety millions of people, and we must, in order under present conditions to maintain the prestige that is proportionate to our stand, have a navy that is worth seeing and able to fight if it has to."

NOT IN VIOLATION OF ANTI-TRUST LAW

Federal Court Orders New Trial in Case of Coal Dealer Against Railroads.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 19.—Judge Walter Sanborn in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today handed down an opinion setting aside the verdict and ordering a new trial in the case of the United States against the Union Pacific Coal Company, the Union Pacific Railway, the Oregon Short Line, James M. Moore and Everett Buckingham, charging them with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law by forming an unlawful combination.

While the suit was brought in the name of the United States, proceedings were started by Mr. Sharp, a Salt Lake City coal dealer, who charged the coal company and the defendant railways with refusing to sell and haul coal for him because he advertised and sold at a lower figure than his competitors.

No Substantial Evidence.
Judge Sanborn holds there was no substantial evidence of any combination between any two of the defendants, either to refuse to sell coal to Sharp or to refuse to transport it for him.

The lower court found the defendants guilty and imposed a fine of $1,000 and costs on Moore and $3,000 and costs on the other defendants.

The syllabus of Judge Sanborn's opinion says that under the Sherman law a "combination, the necessary effect of which is to stifle or directly and substantially to restrict," competition in interstate commerce is unlawful, but if the "necessary effect of a combination is but incidentally and indirectly to restrict competition while its chief result is to foster the trade and increase the business of those who make and operate it, it does not fall under the ban of the law."

GROCE A HOUSTON MAN.

Man Executed With Leroy Cannon Son of Texas Physician.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, Nov. 19.—Louis W. Groce, who with Leroy Cannon was executed in Nicaragua, by orders of President Zelaya, lived in Galveston where his cousin, T. J. Groce, is president of the Galveston National Bank.

At Hempstead, Texas, his former home, Groce's father was a physician, the son's name being the same as the father's.

Groce had been in Nicaragua 16 years as a mine owner and was planning a trip home in December, according to a letter received from him about a month ago.

CALLED OFF AS FAILURE

R. B. Carraway Alleged to Have Made Away With One Hundred and Sixteen Thousand Dollars Belonging to Newbern National Bank.

(By Associated Press.)

NEWBERN, N. C., Nov. 19.—Acting under authority of a search warrant sworn out before Justice J. M. Hines, by A. J. Bryan, president of the National Bank of Newbern, Pinkerton detectives aided by local officers searched the residence of J. R. Carraway all day yesterday and today in hopes of finding a part of the $116,000 which he is alleged to have embezzled from the National Bank of Newbern while teller of that institution. All rooms in the residence, beds, trunks, wardrobes, etc., were searched and all parts of the yard were probed with rods used every four inches.

Every effort was made to locate some of the missing funds or to find a clue leading up to the whereabouts of the money.

As the work was not finished yesterday Special Officer J. W. Dukes and J. H. Gaskill guarded the premises last night and the search was concluded this afternoon. So far as can be learned nothing was found and the chase was called off this afternoon as a failure.

It is rumored that Carraway has been followed by detectives since the defalcation was made public and from the best of evidence it appears that there were four detectives working here on the case today.

customs department," said William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York, tonight when show Secretary MacVeagh's summary of the work thus far accomplished in cleaning up the New York customs house.

"More employees have been dismissed from the New York office since I took charge than during the entire previous history of the service," he said, "and we are not through yet."

"We are going to keep at it until the New York customs house is made thoroughly respectable."

Nineteen More Go.
"Secretary MacVeagh's statement in Washington shows what we had accomplished up to today. Add to that the 19 employees dismissed today, and you will see that we have gone pretty thoroughly into the matter. I am continuing my investigations and I can say that there are more heads to be lopped off soon."

Mr. Loeb's house cleaning took him into high places today. Among those dismissed this afternoon were James N. Vail, deputy collector of this, the biggest customs house in the country; George Bedell, an inspector and formerly chief clerk of the weighing division; Jane H. Hyland and Joseph O'Carroll, ex-foremen of weighing districts.

Vail Indignant.
Mr. Vail expressed great indignation at his removal. "I have been made the scapegoat," he said. "Not only have I been absolutely faithful to the government for the 22 years I have been in the service, but it is a known fact that while I was at the head of the weighing department, I ferreted out the original frauds."

The Wealth of Some People.
Apartments at $22,000 a year are announced in one of New York's latest houses of multiple dwellings. More significant than the rental figures themselves is the fact that they are set forth quite casually. The man may happen in to-morrow who finds the $22,000 suite exactly what he wants.

The Russian Dynasty.
The present dynasty of Russia is the house of Romanoff, founded by Czar Michael Fedorovitch Romanoff, who ascended the throne in 1613. The Romanoffs are descended from Andrew Kobyla, who came from Prussia to Moscow in 1214.

WOULD LIMIT STOCKS AND BONDS OF ROADS

Railroad Commissioners Recommend Legislation—Elect Officers and Adjourn.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—After electing as its officers those who served during the past year and after the adoption of the reports of its several committees, the convention of the National Association of Railway Commissioners adjourned to meet next year in Washington.

One of the important matters considered was a resolution recommending legislation to control and limit the issue of the stocks and bonds of railroads engaged in interstate commerce. A spirited discussion was brought about by Mr. Prentiss, of Virginia, who desired to know whether state or federal control was contemplated.

The resolution however, is left to an open question.

Plea for Government Control.

Judge Clements, one of the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, made a strong plea for government control. He argued that some states grant charters to railroads and allow them to issue any amount of securities and that when it comes to the valuation of the roads they insist they must pay dividends upon watered stock.

The resolution was adopted as was the report of legislative committee which yesterday was discussed at length.

The report of the committee on grade crossings which recommended renewed efforts to secure legislation for the elimination of grade crossings also was adopted.

Meant No Reflection.

Commissioner Earl, of South Carolina, today stated that in his remarks before the convention yesterday, in regard to the proposed federal inspection of wrecks, he is no way, wished to cast any reflection on the Interstate Commerce Commission, as now constituted or the inspectors now employed by it.

He was only talking about what

Beads on Jerseys.

Gray silk jersey garments are liberally sprinkled with cut steel beads; and, indeed, every variety of trimming in bead and braid form has been tried upon the jersey to popularize it.

It is a noticeable fact that this very long-waisted jersey, reaching below the hips and fitting closely upon the figure, has had an influence upon many of the autumn styles in the ready-to-wear models particularly. This jersey outline is evident in the very way that jet and steel beads have been put on cloth gowns of the long hips and the moyen age cut.

New Belt of Ribbon.

In rearranging an old gown some of the touches noticed in new models may be adapted with good effect. One of these is a shirred ribbon girdle, carried across the front of the waist only, with plain loops to stand out at either side. The ribbon is about three inches wide, the shirrings run from edge to edge without heading. From under the loops the ribbon is carried round the back of the waist. This makes a very pretty belt and one that will be quite out of the common.

Strips on Mattresses.
Sew the ends of four strips of denim about six inches long to your mattress (two on each side) to serve as handles. This puts the matter of turning the mattress and carrying it within the strength of women.

GREAT WELCOME FOR TAFF ACROSS ROADS

their convention on yesterday, gave the day over to participating in the welcome to the President.

In his speech at Cape Henry, the President dwelt again upon the necessity of the taking up of waterway improvements on a basis of sound business sense rather than on ideals and oratory. Mr. Taft also told a story on Speaker Cannon, of how he said he did not see the use of inland water-
